the grains of time

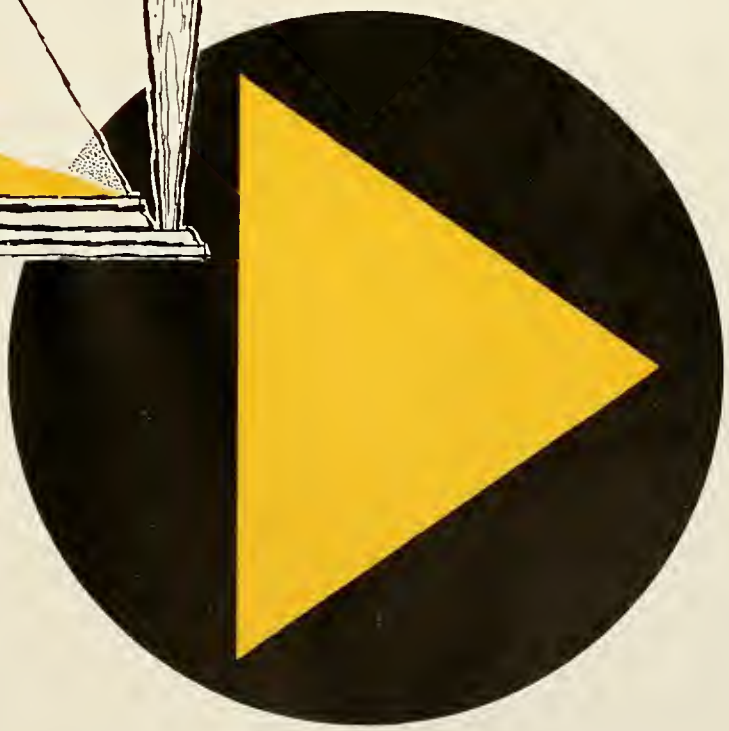

project the future

Four years in a student's academic life are short indeed, but what a Hampden-Sydney man has acquired from the 183 year old college in the heart of Virginia during this brief spand is the basis of the motivating force for the rest of his life.

In this volume, the 62th edition of the KALEIDOSCOPE, we have attempted to present the past and the present of Hampden-Sydney as the foundation for the future. Living for four years in the atmosphere of a small Christian College, Hampden-Sydney men receive a liberal arts education from a dedicated faculty to prepare them to meet the challenge of the future.

We hope that presenting a picture of the unique life at Hampden-Sydney College in this volume will show that the grains of time project the future.

SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH, PROJECTOR OF HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE

By James Renwick Kennedy, Jr., '58

The life of a college is born from the lives of men. Hampden-Sydney College was begun by men who had ideals of what a new college should be like. Of the men who saw the necessity for a liberal arts institution in the Southside area of Virginia, Samuel Stanhope Smith stands out as the main projector of the College. That part of his life which is the natal life of Hampden-Sydney mingles together and is renewed here.

Born on March 16, 1750, at Pequa, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, Samuel Stanhope Smith grew up in the home of a distinguished Presbyterian minister, the Reverend Robert Smith, an Irish emigrant. Young Smith took his early schooling in his father's famous "log school" in Pexcelling. He excelled in Latin. At the age of sixteen, he entered, as a junior, the College of New Jersey (now Princeton); and he was graduated two years later. After teaching for his father and later a tutor at Princeton, Samuel Smith desired to be licensed by the Presbytery of Newcastle, to which Virginia belonged until the formation of Hanover Presbytery in 1775, to go as a missionary to the western countries of Virginia. The Irish settlers quickly received him and welcomed him. His evangelical spirit and captivating oratory made him a popular preacher.

SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH
President, 1776-1779

Because of Mr. Smith's powerful impression on some of the most influential and wealthy people in the area, a desire for a literary college arose. Mr. Smith took charge of the program. On October 18, 1774, plans were formally made to take subscriptions. The minutes of the Presbytery of Hanover at the Cub Creek Church stated that "the Presbytery resumed the consideration of a School (an attempt in 1771 having failed) for the liberal education of youth, which we unanimously judge to be of great and immediate importance . . . Mr. Saml Smith . . . is inclimable to take charge." The congregation of Cumberland, Prince Edward, and other surrounding counties were to begin the subscriptions. Hanover Presbytery was to take it under its care.

At the next group of meetings held on February 1 - 3, 1775, further development was reported. A group of men met in a one-room structure which Nathaniel Venable occupied as his law office on his plantation of Slate Hill, near Worsham, the county seat of Prince Edward at that time. It was reported that the unbelieveable amount of 1260 pounds had been raised in such a short amount of time. Mr. Peter Johnston gave a hundred acres of land for the building of the College. The Presbytery appointed Mr. Samuel Smith as the "Rector of the Academy." It was not called a college until 1783. Four professors were to be paid four pounds per annum for each student.

The Presbytery declared the liberality of their plan for the Academy. They declared that the morals and religion of the students would be regarded, each worshipping as they were accustomed. From this it is shown that the purpose of the men who formed the College, although Presbyterian by origin, was for all who wanted an education. Religious liberty was very emphatically stated. Not only did the subscriptions come from Presbyterians, but they came from people of other denominations as well.

Shortly after the February meeting, Mr. Smith began preparations for the College. He continued to serve the churches in the area of Prince Edward and Cumberland, the original purpose for his coming to Virginia.

In October, 1775, Mr. Smith advertised in the Virginia Gazette the opening of the new college VENABLE HALL (Union Theological Seminary) at the turn of the century.

"distinguished by the name of Hampden-Sydney." John Hampden and Algernon Sydney of England represented the ideas set forth in the founding of the College: the continuation of human rights and freedom of conscience. The College did not open on November 10 as had been planned because of several difficulties. Opposition came early. In the Gazette of November 18, 1775, an article spoke against it by calling Presbyterians dissenters. It was felt that the Church of England should take it over. Mr. Smith replied publicly in the December 9 edition by saying that most of the Trustees were ministers of the Church of England.

Rector Smith used common sense in planning for the opening of the College by the first day of the coming year. He used the system which was used at Princeton. He placed much stress on the English language, Greek, Latin, Geography, Mathematics, History, and science of Morals. Science and the humanities were equally stressed. Three masters and professors, with the foresight of two additional professors before the end of the first year, were to teach.

Further, Mr. Smith stated at the November 23 meeting of the Trustees that the steward was to furnish food for the students consisting of one half of meat and one half of bread. Servants were to be furnished for cleaning the rooms; students were to provide their own beds, buy their own candles, and cut their own wood. The students were to live within a two mile radius of the College. Mr. Smith stated that he had brought the books for the library, and the students were to rent their books from the library.

Although the buildings were not completed, Mr. Smith held the first session on January 1, 1776, as a senior college. The students, besides studying, used their time to help build huts in which eight to ten boys lived. In May, 1776, the walls of the College were only a few feet high, but 110 students enrolled at Hampden-Sydney by the summer. Before the "Commons" was built, servants brought the prepared food on trays from Slate Hill Plantation two miles away.

With the use of authorized lottery, in 1777 funds were raised to construct several buildings. The college plant, faculty, and students body made progress under Reverend Smith's brilliant leadership. The students continued their studies as the Revolution began. And when war threatened in September, 1777, all students over sixteen, about seventy-five, formed Prince Edward Company No. 1. Led by John Blair Smith, brother of the president, they marched to Williamsburg. Their uniform consisted of purple shirts and coonskin caps. After several weeks in Williamsburg an invasion had not developed, and the Governor thanked them. The Hampden-Sydney boys returned to "the Hill." Later they were called to serve near Petersburg. However, not once did Hampden-Sydney close its doors although the sessions were interrupted. Because of the unsettled conditions of the Revolution, Hampden-Sydney did not receive its formal charter until 1783.

These were the stirring days of a new struggling college in the hard days of a new struggling country. While Washington led the rising country, Smith led the growing College of Hampden-Sydney. Samuel Smith remained in charge of the College for four years, until 1779. At that time he returned to Princeton to teach philosophy and later to become its president in 1795. John Blair Smith meanwhile became the second president of Hampden-Sydney College with a number of Princeton men as tutors. However, the very life of Hampden-Sydney College owes much to Samuel Stanhope Smith for the many years of his life that he spent to see an ideal become real and lasting.

Dedication

"The grains of time project the future." At the end of the 1957 academic session two beloved professors and friends of the student body for over thirty years retired from active service to Hampden-Sydney College.

During their years of association with the College they dedicated themselves to the ideal of educating Christian gentlemen who are qualified to assume places of responsibility and leadership in the future. Their energy and talents were given unceasingly for the goal of promulgating the aims of a college of which they are not graduates and for the building of a college which would meet the challenge of the future.

During their years at the College they won a particular place in the heart and memory of every Hampden-Sydney student. Any reference to our alma mater will recall memories of two of the most able administrators, endeared professors, and Christian men who are numbered in the rolls of great men who have dedicated their lives to Hampden-Sydney College.

And in our memories we shall ever be grateful for their insight in preparing us for the future by building in the Spirit of Hampden-Sydney and for their dedication to God and to the ideal of educating young men in a Christian atmosphere.

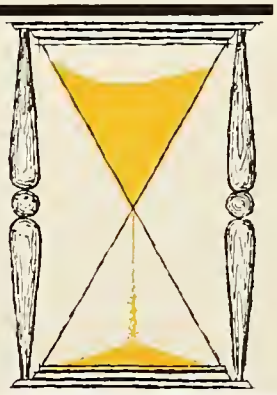

Therefore, the staff of the 1958 KALEIDOSCOPE humbly and fondly makes this dedication, greatly inadequate for the recognition of their service and sacrifice, to SAMUEL MACON REED and DAVID COOPER WILSON.

the college

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE was founded in 1776 (six months before the Declaration of Independence) and named for John Hampden and Algernon Sydney, English patriots. It was brought into being by the love of liberty. Patrick Henry and James Madison were on the first Board of Trustees. President William Henry Harrison was a member of the class of 1791. The college is one of the leading educational institutions of the Presbyterian Church.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
HAMPDEN SYDNEY VIRGINIA

May, 1958

To the Members of the Graduating Class:

It is your destiny to receive the baccalaureate at a time when the public is reviewing its educational institutions as never before. Although the thought may be somewhat disturbing to you, your own mental and spiritual equipment will be taken as a special index of the learning process at Hampden-Sydney College.

I quote from a famous essay printed by the journal, School and Society, in the year 1930, the year when the college was recognized as first in the nation in the percentage of its graduates listed in that directory of distinction, Who's Who in America: "Colleges have been judged by endowment, equipment, faculty personnel, and various other criteria, but undoubtedly the most reliable measure is the quality of the product."

We have unbounded faith in the quality of our product. You go with the affectionate blessing of the college. We welcome you into that large community which proudly claims this great little college as alma mater.

Faithfully yours,

Joseph C. Robert

THE aim of Hampden-Sydney College is to provide a cultural education in order to equip a student for the future enjoyment of life and to provide the preliminary foundation necessary for study in graduate work or in the learned professions. To accomplish this aim the College offers a curriculum founded in the liberal arts tradition and taught by men dedicated to the development of the students' Christian character and sound scholarship through the fostering of a wholesome moral atmosphere.

CLASS OF 1958

Petie left a vast and rich estate of eighteen years; a legacy which only a magnanimous soul such as his could bestow upon those honored to have known him. Any eulogy is pitifully inadequate, for Petie's life of service cannot be penned nor encompassed by mere words. Only God can reward such Christian statue.

history of the class of 1958

A CLASS OF THE FINEST

"As Froshs we explore her"

Four years ago a group of young men, some of them afraid, some hopeful, some bored, some eager for accomplishment—but all impatient for June 1958— gathered at Hampden-Sydney.

For a week they were told what to do and what not to do, examined physically and mentally, given unintelligible intelligence tests, and made to stand in line.

And then Jim Wiley . . . (censored) . . . President of the Sophomore Class, introduced us to all the subtleties of ratting. The Vigilance Committee enjoyed one last fling at our expense. There were several rather unsuccessful but valient attempts at revolt. Then Hampden-Sydney 27—Randolph-Macon 13! And away with the rat hats and signs.

As pledge day drew near the upperclassmen and even the hostile sophomores went out of their way to tell us what "great guys" we were and to organize trips to Macon and the Briar Patch. And then was pledge day! And then was the day after pledge day!

A hundred eighteen boys were split among the seven fraternities and the Independent Organization, but the spirit of belonging to the class of fifty-eight remained.

But one of the most permanent and important pages of our impressions is our recollection of Dr. Gammon. The only unfortunate part of being in the class of fifty-eight was that Dr. Gammon retired from the presidency at "the Hill" in 1955. One of our greatest thrills is that in 1958 he has come back to live at Hampden-Sydney.

"As Sophs we adore her"

We were old men; it was our school. A "bunch of brat freshmen seemed to be trying to take over the place." But under the leadership of gentle Ed Harlow the brats of fifty-nine were put in their place. There were several little revolts that they abruptly squashed.

Of course the bitter must accompany the sweet. The Tiger team travelled to Ashland with high hopes for an undefeated season on the gridiron. It was a long afternoon. But the Bengals had every right to be proud of their eight and one mark.

The baseball team, led by Cooke, Harlow, Humphreys, and Cox, captured the Mason-Dixon championship for fifty-six.

Another man who had become identified with Hampden-Sydney over the years left us. Coach Jim Hickey travelled to North Carolina, but the record which he made remains. It was only right that one man succeed Coach Hickey. The many members of the class of fifty-eight who knew Line Coach Bob Thalman were thrilled to play for him.

In 1955 Dr. Joseph C. Robert came to "the Hill." It would be hard to forget Dr. Gammon, but we came to know Dr. Robert as a distinguished educator, a keen businessman in seeking the good of our school, and a friend.

"As Juniors we patrol her"

As Juniors we were more serious. We were above such goings-on as ratting and rushing. We had to buckle down to books. We had reached the halfway point. Some of those who had begun as Freshmen had fallen by the wayside. Frankly, it frightened us a bit.

But if we were asked what happened in our Junior year, we would all reply, "Who burned McIlwaine?" We were aroused one icy midnight to watch a landmark pass.

Coach Bob Thalman's first season at the helm of Tiger football team proved very successful. The team finished with a record of seven wins and two losses. The baseball team again placed first in the Mason-Dixon Conference.

Morton Hall

The year saw the end of an era at the College with the retirement of Dean Wilson and Dean Reed. As much a part of Hampden-Sydney as the Hampden-Sydney Spirit, Mr. P. T. Atkinson moved from the treasurer's office after many years of service to be Advisor in Alumni.

"As Seniors we extol her"

From the vantage point of four years of life on "the Hill" we can look back. We must be exceedingly grateful for what has been bestowed on us. We must be humble, for it has not been our deserving but rather the devotion and dedication of those who have created the Hampden-Sydney tradition that has given us a glimpse into the meaning of life. Now that our stay is over, we understand what Dean Crawley meant when he spoke of the Hampden-Sydney gentleman. It is truly our duty to extrol her.

We were proud to have as student body president Gene Cooke, who told the "freshmens" how to behave and who earned the respect of student and faculty for his fair and courteous handling of all the problems that arose. Co-captains Cooke and Ed Harlow led the football team to its finest season in the history of the school. They won the Mason-Dixon and Little Eight championships. The school owes much to all those Seniors who sweated for four years on the football field to make this possible—Frank Buck, Fred Wells, Henry Irby, Jim Boyd, Tom Bryant, Joe Leafe, and Herb Seay.

We shall come back!

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY offers a variety of activities for men of different interests who wish to contribute to the welfare of the College and the student body. Student self-government has long been a cherished tradition which is still loyally executed by the student body. Student organizations also include a Student Christian Association, literary society, dramatic group, glee club, and three student publications. There are local chapters of eight national honorary fraternities including Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa.

from THE CONSTITUTION

The STUDENT COUNCIL, by authorization of the Board of Trustees and the Faculty, shall have jurisdiction over matters concerning breaches of the Honor Code, and cases appealed from the Student Assembly. Cheating, stealing, or the breaking of a written or oral pledge constitutes a breach of the Honor Code.

The duties of the STUDENT ASSEMBLY shall be:

To grant charters to all campus organizations except social fraternities, the Student Christian Association, and the Interfraternity Council.

To investigate complaints of vandalism, gambling, and disorderly conduct, and in conjunction with the Administration to dispose of the cases as they see fit. This applies to any place at any time.

To pass such legislation as shall be necessary for the execution of effective student government.

NATIONAL LEADERSHIP HONOR SOCIETY

Founded at Washington and Lee University 1914

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1924

The purpose of Omicron Delta Kappa:

First, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for attainments along similar lines:

Second, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life and thus to create an organization which will help to mould the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest:

Third, to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

the fraternities

THERE are seven national Greek letter fraternities at Hampden-Sydney College. These are members of the Interfraternity Council, which with the co-operation of the faculty committee formulates the rules for rushing, initiating new members, and fraternity conduct and has jurisdiction over any infraction of its rules. The following are the fraternities which have chapters at Hampden-Sydney: Chi Phi, Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Theta Chi, Sigma Chi, and Lambda Chi Alpha.

EPSILON CHAPTER

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1867

Chi Phi Fraternity is the outgrowth of three older organizations, each of which bore the name of Chi Phi: Chi Phi Society, founded at the College of New Jersey; Chi Phi Fraternity, established at the University of North Carolina; and the Secret Order of Chi Phi, founded at Hobart College.

In May of 1867 the Secret Order of Chi Phi at Hobart and the Chi Phi Society of Princeton formally united to form the Northern Order of Chi Phi Fraternity. After negotiations of several years the northern branch and the southern branch merged in March, 1874. The new organization took the name of Chi Phi Fraternity from the Southern Order, but the fabric of organization and the ritual from the Northern Order.

Founded 1855

SIGMA SIGMA CHAPTER

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1872

Reorganized at Hampden-Sydney College 1931

The Sigma Chi Fraternity was established at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on June 28, 1855, by Thomas Cowan Bell, James Parks Caldwell, Daniel William Cooper, Benjamin Piatt Runkle, Franklin Howard Scobey, Issac M. Jordan, and William Lewis Lockwood.

Each pledge of Sigma Chi undergoes a period of training during which he is taught the high ideals of the fraternity. It is during this period that he must prove himself worthy of membership.

The ideals of the fraternity are expressed best in the "Jordan Standard" which states, "No man will be admitted to membership in Sigma Chi who is not believed to be a man of good character, a student of fair ability, with ambitious purposes, a congenial disposition, possessed of good morals, having a high sense of honor, and a deep sense of personal responsibility."

kappa sigma

Founded 1869

UPSILON CHAPTER

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1883

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia, December 10, 1869, by William Grigsby McCormick, George Miles Arnold, Edmund Law Rogers, Jr., Frank Courtney Nicodemus, and John Covert Boyd. It was the first southern fraternity to expand in the North. The early expansion was under the guidance of S. A. Jackson, a Virginian.

Kappa Sigma has expanded largely through the absorption of local fraternities, insisting that the institutions it enters must show promise of a successful future and that the group measure up to the required standards.

In common with all fraternities, Kappa Sigma's list of service dead demonstrates that college men are thoroughly loyal in answering the call of their country.

pi kappa alpha

Founded 1868

IOTA CHAPTER

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1885

Perhaps no statement can better express the concept of the fraternity than the following words of the Preamble of Pi Kappa Alpha, drafted in 1868:

"For the establishment of friendship on a firmer and more lasting basis; for the promotion of brotherly love and kind feeling; for the mutual benefit and advancement of those with whom we sympathize and deem worthy of our regard; we have resolved to form a fraternity; believing that, thus we can most successfully accomplish our object."

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded with these ideas in mind on March 1, 1868, at the University of Virginia. It was founded on the friendship of six students at the University, and from this almost humble beginning, has grown into one of the largest and strongest social orders in the nation. William Alexander, one of the founders, emblazoned the ideals of the fraternity in visual form by designing the badge of Pi Kappa Alpha.

ALPHA TAU CHAPTER

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1899

Kappa Alpha Order had its origin in a fraternity organized by students at Washington College, Lexington, Virginia, in December of 1865, soon after General Robert E. Lee became president of that institution. The ideas and aims of the founders were inspired largely by the circumstances of the time and place, and it was their happy fortune to take as the foundation of their structure principles which must ever command the support of all hearts. There is a persistent, but unveritable, tradition in the Fraternity that General Lee took a special interest in the young organization and influenced the formation of its character; but, be that as it may, it is certain that the Order has always pursued a self-reliant, conservative, and patriotic course.

"The Creed of Theta Chi"

I believe in Theta Chi, its traditions and its ideals. Born of sturdy manhood, nurtured by resolute men, ennobled by high and sacred purpose, it has taken its place among the educational institutions of America as a promoter of knowledge, an advancer of culture, and a builder of character. It inspires true friendship, teaches truth, temperance, and tolerance, extols virtue, exacts harmony, and extends a helping hand to all who seek it.

I believe in the primacy of Alma Mater, in the usefulness of my Fraternity, in its influence and its accomplishments, and I shall do all in my power to perpetuate its ideals, thereby serving my God, my country, and my fellow-man.

Founded 1909

KAPPA ETA ZETA CHAPTER

Established at Hampden-Sydney College 1926

On November 2, 1909, three law students founded Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. They based its founding upon the ideals which have been incorporated into our creed: I believe in Lambda Chi Alpha, its tradition, principles, and ideals. The Cross is our symbol, and the Cresent is our guide. The chapters stand for democracy, services, and self-sacrifice for the betterment of the world. It stands for the Christian ideals, and everyone who is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha professes a belief in these principles.

Lambda Chi Alpha, now in its second quarter of a century, has its share of valuable traditions which are practiced by every chapter: celebration of founder's day, lend-a-hand service projects, apple polishing party.

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE'S football, baseball, basketball, and track squads are members of the Little Eight and Mason-Dixon conferences. The Hampden-Sydney teams are noted for two outstanding qualities: an unconquerable spirit of persistent effort and an unalterable sense of fairness. A true Hampden-Sydney athlete is one who always gives his best, who plays for his team and not for himself, who is modest in victory and generous in defeat, who accepts all decisions in the proper spirit, and who is willing to help others unselfishly.

ROBERT JOSEPH THALMAN
Athletic Director

Coach Bob Thalman, in his second year as Head Football Coach and Athletic Director, headed a four man staff that turned in one of the most impressive season's record in Hampden-Sydney sports history. Coach Thalman meteored the Tigers in 8 - 1 football season which ended with the Bengal eleven as Mason-Dixon and Little Eight champions.

On the hardwood Coach Claud Milam's basketballers turned in a 15 - 5 tally for regular season play and participated in the annual Mason-Dixon Conference Tournament in Baltimore. In the 1957 spring sports the Tigers won the Mason-Dixon and Little Eight conferences baseball championship under former Coach Weenie Miller, and Coach Linkenauger's thinclads compiled a creditable record.

TIGERS DOWN BRIDGEWATER IN 1957 SEASON'S OPENER

Sept. 21—The Tigers got off to a roaring start in the 1957 football season downing the Bridgewater Eagles 39-0. The potent H-S eleven rolled up 429 yards in their first win. The game, played in the intense heat, turned into a rout early in the second half with Thalman clearing his bench. The Bengal scoring was led by half-backs Bill Benson and Joe Leafe with two touchdowns apiece.

STRONG EMORY & HENRY FALLS IN WAKE OF BENGAL ADVANCE

Sept. 28—The Hampden-Sydney Tigers, displaying a never-say-die spirit, overcame a 12-0 fourth quarter deficit to down the Emory and Henry Wasps 14-12. The entire contest was played in a wind-driven rainstorm on a mud covered gridiron. The first quarter ended in a nothing to nothing tie with both teams having trouble with the slippery football. Emory and Henry broke the ice scoring first in the second quarter on a blocked punt and later in the third quarter on a double reverse. The fourth quarter was one that will long be remembered in Tiger football history. The H-S eleven got their first punch across as Bill Benson scampered 44 yards around his own left end. Furr's conversion was good, and the score was 12-7. Less than six minutes later the Tigers had the ball on the Wasps 25 yard line. From then on it was a matter of solid determination climaxed by Benson's score.

TIGERS EDGE GUILFORD QUAKERS, 19 - 14

Oct. 12—The Red 'n' Gray ran into unexpected difficulty at Guilford, N. C., just managing to beat the inspired Quakers, 19-14. The Bengals scored on their first play from scrimmage with Bill Benson going fifty-eight yards after receiving a screen pass from Bob Furr. The Quakers got right back into the ball game scoring in the first quarter and then again in the third to go into the lead. Late in the third period with Wally Giglio leading the attack the tigers marched sixty-three yards for their second score. It was not until midway in the fourth quarter that the Tigers finally went ahead to stay with Giglio scoring from one yard out.

TIGERS ROMP OVER WESTERN MARYLAND, 34 - 6

Oct. 19—The Hampden-Sydney eleven finally got a good offense going in the first half and breezed past a good Western Maryland team 34-6. The Bengals jumped off to an early 20-0 lead and left the field at half time with a 20-6 advantage. The second half turned into a defensive battle with both Tiger touchdowns coming as a result of defensive plays. Tommy Bryant led the Bengal ball carriers with 105 yards. Jim Felty, a stand-out all afternoon, blocked two punts and scored twice.

TIGERS BEAT JOHNS HOPKINS BEFORE HOMECOMING CROWD

Oct. 26—The Tigers rolled up their fifth straight victory of the season in downing the Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins 25-13 before an overflow Homecoming crowd. The Bengals took the opposing kickoff and marched 53 yards in eight plays for the initial tally. Still early in the first half Frank Buck intercepted a pass on the Blue Jay twenty-seven and minutes later Furr hit Felty in the end zone for the second score. The Jays finally got their single wing attack going late in the first half and marched for a touchdown. The second half was all Hampden-Sydney with Furr hitting Felty with a 45 yard pass and scoring again on a keeper late in the fourth quarter.

WEST VIRGINIA WESLEYAN STOMPED BY TIGERS, 32-6

Nov. 2—The "Big Red" scored three touchdowns in the first six minutes over the badly outclassed Bobcats of West Virginia Wesleyan and coasted to their sixth straight triumph. Bill Benson scored three of the Tiger's touchdowns to make him the top point man in the state with 60. The Bobcats had difficulty holding on to the ball and were down 20-0 before they could run a successful play from scrimmage. After that the H-S reserves took over and played all but four minutes of the remaining time.

Nov. 19—Trailing throughout most of the first three quarters, the Hampden-Sydney Tigers exploded for two touchdowns in the final period to take a 26-19 win over Randolph-Macon in the biggest game of the season. The Yellow Jackets scored twice and led 13-0 before the Tigers could get rolling, Bob Furr finally hit Larry Smith for the first H-S tally just 15 seconds before intermission. With their backs to the wall the Bengals scored early in the third quarter with Tom Bryant scoring from the three. The Jackets came storming back again and moved ahead 19-13 as the third quarter closed. Two Furr-to-Smith passes set up the Tigers' third touchdown with Benson scoring. Furr made the all important extra point. Bryant put the game on ice scoring the fourth and final TD.

WASHINGTON & LEE DOWNED BEFORE DAD'S DAY CROWD

Nov. 16—The Tiger eleven extended their win streak to 12 games over two seasons by beating Washington and Lee University 32-18 before the first Dad's Day crowd. The game was highlighted by two tremendous runs of 72 and 60 yards by Tom Bryant. Hampden-Sydney drew first blood early in the opening quarter, but W & L came right back with a tieing marker. A pass from Herb Seay to Bill Richmond gave the Bengals a seven point lead at half time. Bryant took charge in the last half scoring on a 72 yard run in the third quarter. Washington and Lee moved within a touchdown again, but Bryant got off another good run to put the game on ice.

During the half-time ceremonies Mr. William T. Allen, president of the Parents and Friends Association, crowned Miss Lou Cowan queen of Dad's Day. The Parents and Friends sponsored the special activities of the day.

TIGERS END SEASON WITH LOSS TO SEWANEE

Nov. 23— The number thirteen proved unlucky again as the Tigers, striving for their thirteenth in a row for the second time in a four year period, faltered before the Purple of Sewanee, 6-25. It was a game marred with mud and bad breaks for the H-S eleven. The Tigers got off to a good start, scoring the first touchdown on a pass from Furr to Larry Smith. From then on, however, the breaks went against the Bengals, who lost 88 yards via penalties, with many coming on crucial plays. On one occasion the Tigers got to the one foot line and could not push across.

BENSON, COOKE, FELTY, FURR, IRBY NAMED TO ALL-LITTLE EIGHT TEAM

Dec. 9—Paced by the unanimous selection of halfback Bill Benson and quarterback Bob Furr, every member of the H-S starting eleven gained mention on the all-Little Eight squad. Besides Benson and Furr, Jim Felty, Gene Cooke, and Henry Irby gained first string berths.

Other Tigers honored were end Larry Smith, tackle Jim Boyd, guards Frank Buck and Ed Harlow, and backs Tom Bryant and Wally Giglio.

As unanimous selections, Benson and Furr were honorary co-captains of the mythical team chosen by ten sports writers and coaches in the state.

Starting slowly, the Tigers picked up steam in the second half to rout the Green Devils of R.P.I., 87-62, in the opening contest of the 1957-58 season. On a long trip to Lexington, the Hampden-Sydney quintet almost defeated the strong V.M.I. team. Keydet center Lee Southard led his team to a 77-73 victory in the last five minutes. Hawker stole the limelight of the night with his 28 points.

In their first game at Gammon Gym, the hot Tiger five gave the home fans a show with a 100-73 rout of Baltimore University. While the Bengals were still hitting from the floor, the Lynchburg College basketballers were downed on the home court, 66-56. Increasing their percentage, the Tigers continued their impressive Gammon Gym record by doubling the score against Bridgewater, defeating the Eagles, 87-43.

Led by Martin, the Milammen ran up their highest score of the season in a 105-49 rout over Union Theological Seminary. After a substantial victory over Norfolk Division, the Tigers ran up against a fired-up R.P.I. five, having to pool all their talents to down the Green Devils before a home crowd.

In another close game the H-S team barely managed to eke out a victory over a spirited Bridgewater five on the Eagle home court by a 52-49 margin. Lloyd led the Tigers.

Moving into Big Six competition, the cold-shooting Tigers fell before a late surge of Washington and Lee by a score of 61-53. The Generals came from behind with sixteen straight points in the last nine minutes to take the victory.

In a fast-paced, home court tussle the H-S squad exploded for 59 points to break a 30-30 deadlock and topple the perennial Little Eight Champs, Roanoke by a score of 89-68. Hawker scored a total of 24 points while Martin turned in 22.

in little eight conference competition . . .

Spirited by their victory over the Roanoke Maroons, the Tigers traveled to Ashland and downed the Randolph-Macon five, 73-60, before a crowd strongly intermingled with Garnet 'n Gray rooters. The Norfolk Division was again easily defeated by a high scoring Tiger five as Hawker, Martin, and Lloyd improved their game average.

The Bengals' third loss came at the hands of another Big Six rival, William and Mary. It was a long trip and a long game as the Indians overscored the fighting Tigers, 85-59.

Revenge-minded Yellow Jackets came to "the Hill," but received no better treatment. Provoked by the traditional rivals, the Bengals again defeated the Randolph-Macon team in a 78-69 game. Then the Tigers went to Salem with most of the student body in assistance, but the Roanoke team was determined not to suffer a second loss to the Tiger invaders. With noisy support the Big Maroon recorded a high scoring second period and set the Tigers back, 64-56.

The Tigers then reverted to their winning ways as they took the road to Westminster, Maryland, and routed the Green Terrors of Western Maryland, 79-58, in an easy Mason-Dixon Conference game. While in the area the team met Mt. St. Mary's. The ice-cold Bengal Quintet dropped the contest to the Mounties by the score of 67-58. Shepherd was Tiger high scorer for the evening.

In the final Little Eight game of the season the champion Tiger quintet journeyed to Lynchburg and downed the home team in a hard fought contest. Highscoring Bob Lloyd, Leon Hawker, and Vernelle Martin led their team in the 97-70 conquest. To end the season the Bengals, putting on one of their best round-ball exhibitions of the season, routed the Blue Jays from Johns Hopkins by a score of 92-68. The tall Tigers dominated the backboards as Gil Sayres scored a total of 20 points.

TIGERS ENTER TOURNEY PLAY

As the second seeded team, the Tigers entered competition in the annual Mason-Dixon Conference Tournament at Loyola College in Baltimore. In the first round the Tigers repeated their rout of Johns Hopkins, downing and eliminating the Jays with a 81-56 score and a superb display of basketball handling. On the second night the H-S squad met Mt. St. Mary's and for the second time fell before the power of the Mounties. Although Bob Lloyd amazed the tourney crowd with his 31 points, the Tigers lacked seven points in the last seconds of the 78-71 game.

Eight regulars received their letter at the end of the season: Horsley Putt, Buck Dodson, Ted Shepherd, Leon Hawker, Bob Lloyd, Vernelle Martin, Gil Sayres, and Larry Hammer.

cross country

Although a cross country race lacks the grandeur and excitement of a football game, there was a small number of boys who turned out for this grueling sport. They worked hard and did their best, finishing the season with a 4-1 record and fourth place in the Little Eight. Number one man for the harriers was King Waddill, who set a new college record of 16:05 on the Hampden-Sydney 3.1 mile course.

When the Hampden-Sydney thinclads took to the cinders against East Carolina in their first meet of the season, they began one of the most successful seasons which a Tiger track squad has known in recent years. Under the capable coaching of rookie coach "Monty" Linkenauger and the able leadership of co-captains George Grinnan and Jim Wiley, the thinclads turned in a very respectable 5-2 record. In addition they placed third in both the Little Eight and Mason-Dixon Conferences.

Much of the credit for this season was due to Jim Frazer, a senior who rewrote all records in the weights both at Hampden-Sydney and in the Mason-Dixon Conference. His marks of 50 feet one-eighth inch in the shot and 150′ 7″ in the discus will stand a long time.

Speedy Bill Benson, who tied the college record of twenty-two seconds in the 200 yard dash and Walter Chapman were dependable performers in the dashes and hurdles. In the distances Coach Linkenauger depended on Bunting Brown, Tom Allen, Bob Hippensteele, King Waddill, George Grinnan, and John Graves.

Among the impressive victories which the trackmen wrote into the college record were the downing of a strong Randolph-Macon team and an edge over the Washington and Lee University thinclads. Other victories over Bridgewater, East Carolina College, and Lynchburg completed the Tigers 5-2 mark. During the season the Hampden-Sydney squad lost to the stronger Norfolk Division and Roanoke teams.

In May the thinclads played hosts to both the Mason-Dixon and Little Eight Conference Track Meets at Death Valley. In both events the Tigers finished third. Roanoke College captured the M-D crown during the annual conference event at the college.

NEW COLLEGE RECORDS

1957 Season

John Graves toppled the old college record for the half mile, posting a new mark of 2:01.7. And the Tiger mile relay team, composed of Bunting Brown, Bill Benson, Tom Allen, and Bob Hippensteele, set a new school record of 3:28.7 in the mile relay.

Bill Benson tied the school record of twenty-two seconds in the 220 year dash.

BILL ODOM, Captain
1957 Season

1957 tennis

The 1957 edition of the Hampden-Sydney tennis team turned in a creditable six wins, eight losses record under the captainship of senior Bill Odom. During the season the Tiger netmen met Lynchburg, Union Seminary, Bridgewater, Richmond, Roanoke, and Randolph-Macon twice.

Jack Miller, a veteran returnee, led the Tigers from the number one slot. Except for Odom the team was composed of freshmen and sophomore. Freshmen Lindsey Witt, Bill Waters, and Marshall Ebert were mainstays for the netters. Sophomore Bob Cunningham, 1958 team captain, came through with a fine season. Ebert was a particular standout, losing only three of his matches during the season.

Odom proved the mainstay of the team, serving not only as captain but also as coach and organizer of the tennis schedule.

THE Hampden-Sydney KALEIDOSCOPE annually contains a selected group of co-eds to be featured as a representation of the College's social life. Many co-eds from all parts of the state and area visit the campus during the year for fraternity parties and for the German Club's three big dance weekends: Homecoming, Midwinters, and Finals. In addition to this small group in the Features there is the group of sweethearts chosen by each social fraternity to represent the local chapter in campus, state, and regional activities.

Joyce Myron photographed in front of the California atomic-electric power plant built by Pacific Gas & Electric Company and General Electric. With her are some of the men who operate the plant and the G-E Vallecitos Atomic Laboratory, site of the plant.

The girl, the men, and the atom

One of the happiest girls in the world is Joyce Myron, 18-year-old college student of Drexel Institute of Technology.

She is known across America for her triumphs on TV'S "$64,000 Question," where she brilliantly answered questions about the new science of atomic energy. And she has interested millions in the exciting promise of the peaceful atom.

This picture shows Joyce at the scene of one of her TV appearances, an atomic-electric power plant near San Francisco — the first completed among several now being planned and built by electric light and power companies and equipment manufacturers.

With Joyce are engineers and scientists who run the plant and the nearby atomic laboratory. Most are only a few years older than Joyce — members of the new generation that is unlocking the secrets of atomic energy.

We salute Joyce Myron and the other young atomic scientists and engineers. Theirs is the privilege of putting the atom to work — for power, for healing, and for other and still unknown services to mankind.

THE IMPRINT OF PRIDE

PRINTING is the great constructive force of the modern civilized world. It plays the indispensable part in the dissemination of news, in the expression and progression of political ideals, in the records and exchange of commerce and industry. It democratizes education, science, art, music —and broadens the scope of everything it touches. ¶To appreciate its high place in the esteem of an enlightened world, PRINTING MUST BE WELL DONE. Our offering to the cause of BETTER PRINTING is REPRESENTED IN THIS ANNUAL

J. P. BELL COMPANY, INC.

816 MAIN STREET · LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA

You who celebrate bygones,

Who have explored the outward, the surfaces of the races, the life that has exhibited itself,

Who have treated of man as the creature of politics, aggregates, rulers, and priests,

I, habitan of the Alleghanies, treating of him as he is in himself in his own rights,

Pressing the pulse of the life that has seldom exhibited itself, (the great pride of man in himself,)

Chanter of Personality, outlining what is yet to be,

I project the history of the future.

—Walt Whitman (1860)

The production of a KALEIDOSCOPE is a large task, and the editor and business manager wish to express their appreciation to the administration, faculty, and student body for their co-operation in the endeavor and especially to the members of the staff who worked faithfully gathering information, assimilating it, typing copy, and proof-reading galleys.

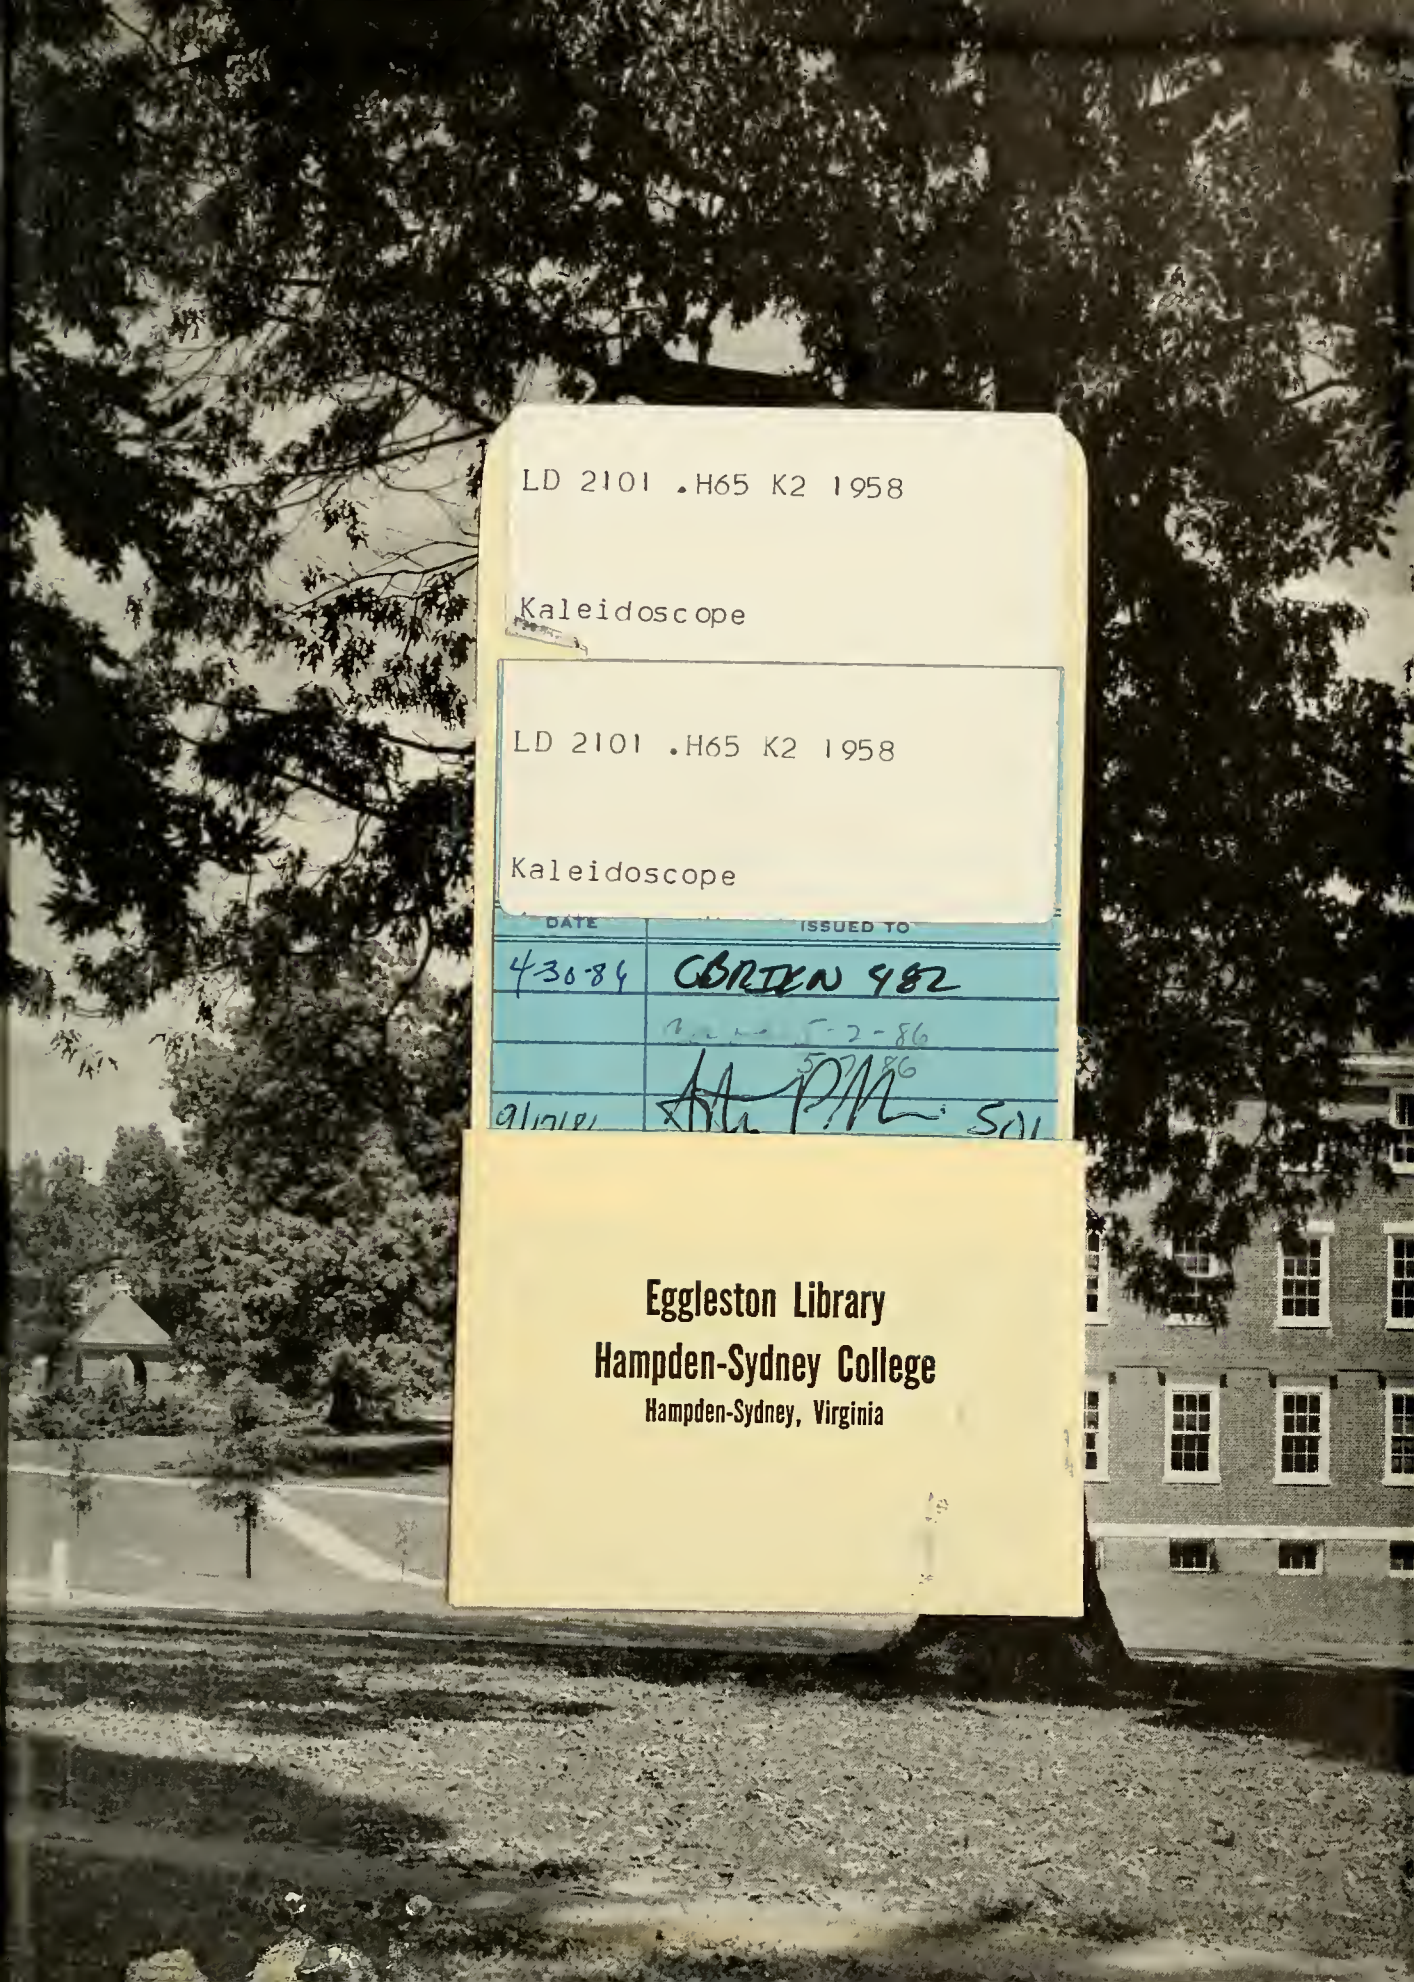

Photography is the major item, and the staff is particularly indebted to Mr. Gerald Lisman of Lisman Studio, 602 East Grace Street, Richmond, who did the individual photographs; to Mr. Warren Nelson, the Camera Artist of Farmville, who did many of the group shots; to Mr. John Steck of the Farmville Herald and to Mr. D. A. Matthewes of the Chemistry Department.

The staff has had the pleasure of working with Mr. G. E. Johnson of J. P. Bell Company of Lynchburg and with Mr. William P. Blackwell of Lynchburg Engraving Company. Their assistance has been of the greatest value in the production of the 1958 KALEIDOSCOPE.
